FEDERAL RETIREMENT THRIFT INVESTMENT BOARD RELEASES A MOBILE VERSION OF TSP.GOV

Washington, D.C. -- In order to make it easier for participants to access their account information from many Android and iOS operating system smartphone devices, the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board (FRTIB) deployed a mobile version of the TSP website, tsp.gov. This relies on "responsive web design" to provide an optimal viewing experience based on the type of device the participant is using to visit the website. Participants do not need to download an app to enjoy this experience.

The mobile version of the My Account section of tsp.gov provides participants the informational, transactional and interactive mobility benefit to access their TSP account information anytime and anywhere on a smartphone.

Over the past week alone, there have been over 60,000 log-ons from a smartphone to the mobile version of tsp.gov.

The TSP is a retirement savings plan for Federal employees; it is similar to the 401(k) plans offered by many private employers. As of September 2013, TSP assets totaled approximately $375 billion, and retirement savings accounts were being maintained for more than 4.6 million TSP participants. Participants include Federal civilian employees in all branches of Government, employees of the U.S. Postal Service, and members of the uniformed services. Additional information can be found at www.tsp.gov.
